

Search for Angela Davis Broadened

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) — The search for Angela Davis broadened today after a federal attorney confirmed that the self-proclaimed Communist and former university philosophy instructor bought the shotgun that killed Judge Harold J. Haley.

The judge and three other men were killed Aug. 8 during a gunbattle that followed a courtroom kidnaping at San Rafael, across the Golden Gate from San Francisco.

Miss Davis is charged with one count of murder and five counts of kidnaping under a California law which holds anyone who aids a major crime as guilty as the direct participants.

Jerrold Ladar, assistant U.S. attorney, said Sunday a serial number check showed the shotgun was purchased at a San Francisco pawn shop Aug. 5 by the former UCLA instructor who the regents refused to rehire.

The search for Miss Davis ranged from the West Coast to Birmingham, Ala., and abroad after Ladar disclosed that Miss Davis, 26, had a passport.

Early reports about the possible whereabouts of the attractive black educator with a high Afro hairdo had included Canada. Ladar said a passport was not needed to enter Canada, but would be necessary to go from there to any other country.

As the FBI joined in the search on a federal fugitive warrant charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, reports persisted that Miss Davis might be in Birmingham Ala., her birthplace.

Maj. David Orange, head of the Jefferson County (Ala.) sheriff's intelligence force, said he is convinced that she is still in Birmingham.

An informant told officers Miss Davis had attended a Black Panther party meeting in Birmingham last Friday night, he reported.

In San Francisco, Ladar said Miss Davis was reported to have been a frequent companion of Jonathan Jackson, 17, one of those killed in the shootout at the Marin County Civic Center. Investigators said Jackson went into Haley's courtroom with a bowling bag full of weapons and interrupted an assault trial by brandishing guns and shouting: "All right, everybody freeze!"

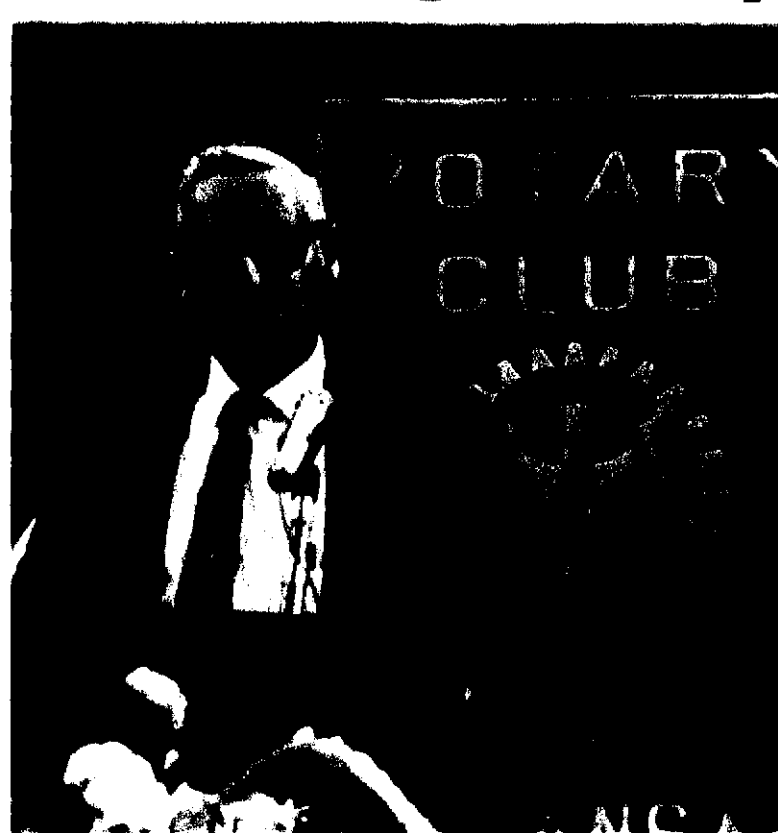

Taking the judge and four others in the courtroom as hostages, Jackson and three San Quentin convicts—one on trial for assaulting a guard and two present as witnesses—marched the hostages to a parking lot.

In a gunbattle that erupted as the abductors tried to leave the area in a small van with their hostages, Jackson and two of the convicts, James McClain and William A. Christmas, were killed.

The third convict, Ruchell Magee, and two of the hostages were wounded.

Nerve Gas Heading for Watery Grave

By HOWARD BENEDICT
Associated Press Writer

ABOARD THE USS HARTLEY (AP) — A rusty surplus Liberty ship carrying a cargo of nerve gas and several rabbits wallowed through the Atlantic under tow today, headed for a watery grave 282 miles east of Cape Kennedy, Fla.

The LeBaron Russell Briggs is scheduled to be scuttled in 16,000 feet of water Tuesday, carrying with her to the bottom 418 steel-jacketed concrete vaults containing more than 12,500 nerve gas rockets.

The way for the controversial disposal of the deadly gas was cleared Sunday when Florida Gov. Claude Kirk and the Environmental Defense Fund said they were abandoning a court fight against the Army's plans to rid itself of the rockets. They claimed the gas represented an extreme danger to the ocean environment.

In a rare Sunday session, the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington upheld a district court's refusal to grant Kirk and the defense fund an injunction barring the disposal plans. But it said the Briggs must remain in port at Sunny Point, N.C., until 10 a.m. today to give Kirk and the defense fund a chance to carry an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The appeals court announced some two hours later, however, that Kirk and the group were quitting the court fight and the Briggs, which originally had been scheduled to get under way Saturday, moved out with a tug supplying the power.

Providing escort were a back-up tug, the destroyer escort Hartley and the Coast Guard cutter Mendota.

When the convoy reaches the disposal area, a 14-man team of specialists will board the Briggs, checking first the rabbits. They are sensitive to gas, should any of the vaults spring a leak.

The men will install devices to monitor the rate of descent as the Briggs goes to the bottom, remove the rabbits and all salvageable equipment, open valves to let seawater flood the ship, then abandon the Briggs.

Navy Capt. A. G. Hamilton, in charge of sinking the Briggs, estimated it would take 4 1/2 to 5 hours for the World War II freighter to go down.

pan to Pakistan commented in interviews on the effect of the doctrine.

There is agreement that Tokyo's prestige and influence has soared as non-Communist Asia, faced with declining American involvements, looks to Japan to fill whatever gaps the departing Americans may leave.

The prospect of a greatly expanded role has somewhat alarmed Japanese leaders who now are urging the United States to go slow in carrying out the deAmericanization program in Southeast and Northeast Asia.

The Japanese would much prefer to be strictly an economic partner while the United States continues to shoulder the major security burden for the region.

American officials—stung by congressional criticism that U. S. sacrifices have succeeded in making Southeast Asia safe for Japanese investment—are calling on the government of Prime Minister Eisaku Sato to take on more responsibility, particularly in stepped up Vietnam and Cambodia.

The Nixon Doctrine has been met by considerable skepticism in India. It is not clear, say Indian authorities, exactly what is meant by the Guam declaration.

On one hand, there is the reduction announced for U.S. ground forces in Vietnam, Korea, Thailand and the Philippines.

On the other, they say, it is the U.S. desire to get these countries to build up their own ground combat forces, in pursuance of whatever international policy the United States wishes.

Consequently, the Indians argue, there is no American withdrawal under this interpretation, but merely a change in the composition of U.S. and allied forces.

The Indians say Hanoi is willing to allow South Vietnam a separate existence, although it may not last for very long—perhaps five or ten years.

sage was numbered 10, and the government is holding 206 suspected Tupamaros instead of 183.

The last confirmed message from the kidnapers was delivered last Tuesday, along with letters from Dias Gomide and Pity to their wives. Since then there have been four other notes which the police believe were false.

Meanwhile, private houses, hospitals and churches were searched as 12,000 police and soldiers continued the dragnet for the missing foreigners and their captors.

Sixty persons have been arrested during the search, including Raul Sendic, 44, founder and one of the top leaders of the Tupamaros, who had been a fugitive for six years.

There were no visible results from a meeting of Sendic with three of his lieutenants which the government allowed in a jail cell Friday night. Police made no official statements, and local newspapers gave varying accounts of the meeting. They agreed that Sendic requested the conference, that authorities had denied his request that a

Nixon Raps Congress for Costly Delays

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon berated Congress today for what he called indefensible delayed action on economic proposals resulting in "an unnecessary leakage of $2 million a day."

Continuing a long-standing financial feud with the lawmakers, Nixon said in a statement: "I urge the Congress to take prompt action, as I have done, to put the public interest ahead of the special interests—to put an end to those costly 'sacred cows' that have been allowed to exist long after their original purposes have been served."

Nixon said that an economy message he sent to Capitol Hill nearly six months ago listed 57 actions which could be taken to reduce unnecessary federal spending, of which 42 could be taken by himself and the remainder by Congress, with a resulting savings target of $2.132 billion.

"Because the Congress has not addressed the potential savings with a sense of urgency," the President said, "an average of $2 million is being wasted every day on programs that are obsolete, low-priority or inefficient. Congressional inaction is extremely expensive."

Of the more than $2 billion he set as a savings goal, Nixon said $1.50 billion could be accomplished by action of the executive branch while $982 million required congressional action.

The White House produced a list of specific items on which it figured Congress ought to do better in the economy field. These included such things as cutting out continued payments to persons cured of tuberculosis at a savings of $46 million in the present budget, ending duplicate burial benefits veterans receive from the Veterans Administration and the Social Security program with a $54 million saving and ending federal ownership of the Alaska Railroad at a $100 million budget reduction.

Rains Stop Riots in Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Nineteen hours of torrential rain and Belfast's worst flood in 30 years brought a weekend halt to Catholic-Protestant riots and changed British troops from enemies to heroes, at least temporarily.

Rescue operations replaced street battles as hundreds of families were evacuated from their homes. More than 1,000 British troops laid down their guns to toil for hours in the swirling waters.

No casualties were reported, but damage estimates ran as high as $2.5 million. The Catholic Falls Road district was hardest hit.

As the cleanup got under way today, both Protestants and Roman Catholics praised the soldiers who the previous weekend were the targets of bricks, bottles and such epithets as "Gestapo swine."

McClerkin Would Get Answers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Hayes McClerkin of Texarkana said Sunday that if elected governor he will seek "immediately" the federal government's policy on schools.

McClerkin, who is seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said he would fly to Washington even before he assumes office if elected to obtain answers to his questions concerning the schools.

He said that uniform and clear guidelines "must be adopted and applied uniformly to all states."

BOOKED FOR SCHOOL

Fashion for the young in heart is a whole new scene for fall. New fabrics, silhouettes and new freedoms have been combined to make every girl's outfit her very own thing. The sportswear look plays a big part in this fashion revolution. For a real swinger, there is the great head-to-toe look (left) in deep brown felt. The soft, floppy-brim hat is fringed to complement the cut-out sleeveless jerkin and midi skirt. The three-piece, head-to-toe ensemble (right) is of bold-tricolor plaid. The newsboy cap has a new, wide visor and is worn with a jaunty slouch. The look is completed with a sleeveless midi jerkin and matching, fringed midi skirt. These are from Geronimo Sportswear.

ONE WAY TO BEAT THE INCOME TAX

Dear Helen:

My doctor says our baby is due on January 3, and he has hit it right on my last two dates with the stork.

I read about the "induction-of-labor" system where a woman can choose the date of delivery (within two weeks of the normal term), go to the hospital, get an infusion of synthetic oxytocin—a hormone that brings on contractions and spontaneous labor—and voila: a baby by appointment!

This would be great for us: if our baby came before January 1, 1971, we would get an income tax deduction for another dependent for the whole year of 1970. Would it be legal or ethical or whatever for a doctor to schedule an expectant mother ahead just to save on income tax? —ALWAYS THINKING

Dear A. T.:

Well happy day! Here's a loophole the IRS can't plug. Induced labor, for whatever reason, is your doctor's decision. Some favor it, others don't—and a great deal depends on overall condition of the mother. —H.

Dear Helen:

I have a man that is flat awful. He drank for many years and flat beat me to a pulp hundreds of times. This slacked off, but now he flat nags me to death. He won't take me anywhere, or let me even talk to anyone.

He's a flat miser and I have to beg for money. He thinks I'll use it to leave him and run off with another man. He has plenty, but spends it on himself.

What would I want with another man? After 23 years of misery, I flat hate the thought of marriage.

My mind and body can't stand much more. Please tell me how a woman can get out of a hopeless mess when she never has one dollar to rub against another? —FLAT MISERABLE

Dear Flat Miserable: Even a flat broke woman, if she is miserable enough, can start walking. Surely you have friends who will take you in until you can find work, or a lawyer can arrange for separate maintenance. (In your state, the husband pays lawyers' fees.) —H.

Dear Helen:

How could you say "Bravo" to the person who wants families limited to two or less children and birth control information spread to all?

It was only after our tenth child that my husband and I decided to use the Pill. We feel a strong nation needs honest, strong people, especially for the Armed Forces. Our objective is to raise children to serve their God and Country.

Everyone should be allowed to make their own decisions about the size of their families without any help from these intellectual snobs who put us down. Maybe they'll be happy some day that our children are here to protect them.

However, I must admit that our older children do not want large families. Maybe it is the trend of the times: materialism, not wanting to put out that much effort. I call it being selfish. —FOR LARGE FAMILIES

Dear For:

The trend toward small families is not from materialism but realism. World population nearly doubled in the past 40 years. It will double again perhaps before the year 2010; our planet can't hold that many people without widespread famine, misery—and war. Suggested reading: "The Population Bomb," by Dr. Paul Ehrlich. —H.

Mrs. Hampton Has Faith in Husband

By DALA MCKINSEY
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Nora Hampton, 34, said she learned her husband, the Rev. R. J. Hampton, had filed for the Republican gubernatorial nomination on her car radio.

Mrs. Hampton said Hampton had still not decided to run when she left home the morning of June 16 to attend class at State College of Arkansas.

She said as she was driving home from Conway she heard that Hampton had filed for office. He is the first Negro to run for governor in Arkansas since 1920.

Mrs. Hampton says she has a lot of faith in her husband.

"He has always been a good provider," she said, "I feel secure that he will make it."

However, she said she wished he had not resigned as president of Shorter College in North Little Rock so soon. He resigned the same day he filed for office.

Mrs. Hampton said she had "faith" in the people of Arkansas that they could accept a black candidate.

She said Hampton was "brave" and very "sincere" in his campaign.

Mrs. Hampton says she has left the majority of the campaigning to her husband and his staff, partly due to the fact that she is attending SCA to obtain a master's degree in counseling.

She has taught elementary education in Pulaski County School system and will teach again next year. But, she said if Hampton is elected, her plans will be centered around his duties and she will put aside her education for a while.

With a grin, Mrs. Hampton said she had considered the possibility that she might become Arkansas' first lady and said she "would be happy" to assume that role.

As an educator and a candidate's wife, Mrs. Hampton said she would like to see Arkansas' schools totally desegregated, but declined to comment further on any other campaign issues.

With her hectic schedule, Mrs. Hampton says relatives have "pitched in" to help her care for her three children.

On weekends, Mrs. Hampton and the children accompany Hampton to various political rallies. She says that now the weekends are the only time the entire family can be together.

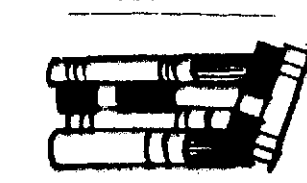

A native of Tennessee, Mrs. Hampton enrolled at Shorter on the advice of her high school English teacher and met Hampton while the two were freshmen.

Mrs. Hampton says she has always been interested in politics and has worked in church campaigns with her husband and has worked at the polls in general elections.

The Hamptons have also published three weekly newspapers. Their current paper is an offset operation, "The Arkansas Mirror."

Mrs. Hampton said she enjoyed reading and "loved" to cook and entertain. She said as the wife of a minister and college president she has done her share of entertaining.

She said Hampton's candidacy is reflected in her children's ambitions, one wants to be a minister, another wants to be a politician, but the third, a six-year-old girl, simply wants to be a movie star.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Herschel Bernardi is returning to television in mid-September in the title role of "Arnie." CBS' new half-hour series about the day-to-day adventures of a family man who is suddenly pulled from the security of a leading platform and tossed into the executive suite.

Bernardi left television almost a decade ago with a firm public identity as Lt. Jacoby, a rumpled, weary and cynical police officer outwitted each week by private eye "Peter Gunn."

Since he has added to his Broadway credits in musicals such as "Fiddler on the Roof," "Arnie" will have a wife and a couple of children and will reflect the television trend for situation comedies that shoot for the heart, not the funny bone, and often have a message built in.

But in a TV world which is largely dedicated to depicting idealistically middle-class, middle-income and especially suburban life, "Arnie" will be a standout. It will be the first of the neosituation comedies dedicated to the glorification of the blue-collar worker and his life style. There were some lunch-pail carrying heroes in the past, but Jackie Gleason's Ralph, the bus driver, William Bendix's Riley and the kooky carpenters of "I'm Dickens . . . He's Fenster" were figures of fun.

Workshoppers Rhonda Moses, Pam Gilbey, Pat Huckabee, Jerry Pruden, and Susan Stevens got into the serious work of planning the 1971 Bobcat at OBU Workshop recently. They were accompanied by their adviser, Mrs. Mary Nell Turner.

Bernardi, a skilled actor will play a contented working man who unexpectedly becomes a high salaried executive, but determinedly sticks by his convictions. He has just concluded an episode in which Arnie is assigned to notify an old friend that, after 27 years of loyal service to the company, he is to be summarily retired with pension and gold watch just because he has reached his 65th birthday.

In one scene Bernardi was spitting in outrage against a system ruled by the calendar instead of a man's individual capacity. It should make a hit with the mature audience. "I think we make some points," Bernardi observed during a break in shooting. "We have another show in which Arnie's son has been ordered at school to cut his hair. I argue and order; he balks. Then suddenly the company orders Arnie to shave off his mustache. I think the episode may help bring a little understanding on both sides in a pretty common situation these days."

Premiere date for the series is Sept. 19 with a Cinderella-style episode that explains how one poor but honest working man gets his break. It may not be the best half-hour in the series, but in situation comedy, they really have to establish a premise before they can get to the jokes, the heart-warming or the message.

Boy, 15, Defuses Mortar Bomb

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — Ian Hughes, 15, "is always bringing things home and tinkering with them," his mother says. During the weekend he found a live World War II mortar bomb at a building site, brought it home and took it apart. Nothing happened.

"In 99 cases out of 100, anyone doing this would have been killed," a police expert said. "It was a foolhardy thing to do."

The boy said he had never handled a bomb before but defusing it didn't worry him—"I'd seen it done on television."

Mets Nip Atlanta; 2-1 Score

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chief Knockahoma's war whoops had the New York Mets ears ringing . . . until Cleon Jones gave the Atlanta medicine man a taste of his own fire-water.

Jones drilled a tie-breaking home run in the sixth inning Sunday as the Mets shrugged off Knockahoma's Indian sign and nipped the Braves 2-1 behind the five-hit pitching of Jim McAndrew.

The victory, coupled with Pittsburgh's 8-6 loss to San Diego, sent the second place Mets within three games of the Pirates in the National League East Division scramble.

It also silenced the Braves' mischievous mascot, who holds fourth in a teepee just beyond the left field fence at Atlanta Stadium and celebrates each home team homer with a triumphant war dance.

In other National League action, Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 4-2; the Chicago Cubs topped Los Angeles 5-2; San Francisco downed St. Louis 5-2; and Montreal trimmed Houston 5-3.

In the American League, Baltimore nipped Oakland 2-1; Detroit pounded California 7-1; the New York Yankees beat Kansas City 5-1; Minnesota slugged Boston 9-6; Milwaukee edged Cleveland 4-3 and Washington shaded the Chicago White Sox 2-1.

Knockahoma had no home runs to celebrate over the weekend but he flipped his war-bonnet Saturday night when Jerry Grote's third-strike passed ball and throwing error in the ninth gave the Braves a 3-2 victory over the startled Mets.

When the Braves scored the tying run against McAndrew Sunday on a zany, inning-ending double play, Knockahoma started whooping it up again. But Jones spoiled the fun by opening the sixth with his eighth homer of the season.

McAndrew ended a personal three-game losing string and brought his season record to 7-11 by blanking the Braves after Sonny Jackson scored in the fourth as the Mets completed a slow-motion double play.

With Jackson at third, Orlando Cepeda at first and one out, second baseman Ken Boswell gloved Rico Carty's sinking liner, but then let the ball trickle away. Cepeda froze on the baseline, then headed for second when Boswell recovered and tossed to first baseman Donn Clendenon.

Clendenon threw to second, then, prodded by McAndrew, called for the ball back and finally stepped on first. In the confusion, Jackson tagged up at third and sneaked home.

The umpires ruled that Boswell had made the catch and called Cepeda out at first, but allowed the run because of the "time lapse" between putouts. Both managers disputed the decision, to no avail.

San Diego's Ed Spiezio wrecked the Pirates with a three-run homer in the eighth after the Padres blew a 5-0 first inning lead. Bob Robertson's seventh inning homer pulled the Pirates even before Spiezio connected off reliever Orlando Pena to snap Pittsburgh's winning string at three games.

Johnny Bench drove in three runs, boosting his major league-leading RBI harvest to 118, and pitcher Tony Cloninger homered as the Reds checked the Phillies.

The victory increased their West Division lead to 12 games over the Dodgers who squandered a 2-0 lead and wasted 10 hits at Chicago. Randy Hundley delivered two runs for the Cubs with a pair of singles, helping right-hander Bill Hands gain his 14th victory.

Hal Lanier's run-scoring single snapped a 2-2 deadlock at St. Louis and the Giants added two insurance runs in the seventh. Lanier had beaten the Cards Saturday with a ninth inning single.

The Expos downed Houston on Bob Bailey's two-run homer in the ninth.

Mahan Named Best Cowboy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Mahan, of Brooks, Ore., won the All-Around Cowboy title with a total of $2,287 in three events at the Madison Square Garden Rodeo that ended Sunday night. Jerry Olson, of Sturgis, S.D., set a Garden record by winning $2,279 in steer wrestling.

Conference Squad Begins Fall Practice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Five Southwest Conference football squads begin limbering up this week as fall practice opens for the 1970 season.

Texas Tech, Texas Christian University, Texas A&M, Southern Methodist University and Baylor start conditioning drills Thursday.

Defending champion Texas opens fall drills Aug. 25, a day after Arkansas and Rice begin exercises.

All teams must hold only conditioning drills the first three days. Contact workouts begin the fourth day of practice.

Baylor inaugurates the season with a night game Sept. 11 against Missouri in St. Louis.

Five other SWC teams will play on home fields the next night: Stanford at Arkansas, Oklahoma at SMU, Wichita State at Texas A&M, University of Texas-Arlington at TCU and Tulane at Texas Tech.

Rice and Texas open their seasons the following week.

Almost six of every 10 lettermen and more than half of last season's starters are back at the eight SWC schools. Included in the returning group are 10 of the 22 players who were consensus all-conference in 1969.

Here's a glance at SWC teams this season with 1969 records in parentheses:

Arkansas (9-1) — Returns 30 lettermen, including seven starters on offense and seven on defense, but only two of the interior five in the offensive line.

Baylor (0-10)—Returns 29 lettermen, including five starters on offense and six on defense. Returns all three quarterbacks.

Rice (3-7)—Returns 35 lettermen, tops in the SWC, including eight offensive and ten defensive starters.

SMU (3-7)—Returns 22 lettermen, fewest in the SWC, including five offensive and four defensive starters.

Texas (10-0)—Returns 33 lettermen, including six offensive starters and five defensive starters.

Texas A&M (3-7)—Returns 29 lettermen, including three offensive and six defensive starters.

TCU (4-6)—Returns 28 lettermen, but fewest number of starters in the SWC with four on offense and two on defense.

Texas Tech (5-5)—Returns 31 lettermen, including nine offensive and six defensive starters.

Meador to Return to Football

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eddie Meador, all-pro safetyman who announced his retirement from the Los Angeles Rams April 21, told Ram Coach George Allen Sunday that he has decided to return to football.

A Ram spokesman said Meador, 33, an 11-year veteran, told Allen he would join the Rams later this week at their Fullerton, Calif., training camp.

Meador had retired to pursue what he called a lucrative career as an insurance company executive in the Dallas area.

Dave Stockton New PGA Champion

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Young Dave Stockton of Westlake, Calif., is the new PGA champion because he believed in a dream and refused to be shaken by an antagonistic Arnie's Army.

"I came here with a positive attitude," the good looking, 28-year-old professional's son said after collecting the $40,000 first prize Sunday and crushing Arnold Palmer's bid for the only major title he hasn't won.

"All week I thought about how I'd play the 18th hole if I came down to it with a two-stroke lead—I really felt it would happen."

Stockton came to the final hole of the 72-hole championship with a three-stroke lead and he played it cool, settling for a bogey five, a closing 73 for a 279 and a two-stroke edge over Palmer and Bob Murphy.

Each of the runners-up collected $18,500. Larry Hinson and Gene Littler were next at 282, collecting $8,800.

For a while it appeared Stockton's tremendous effort might be sabotaged by the raucous, stampeding and disrespectful Arnie's Army. Only Arnie had a chance to beat him.

"Sure I heard them out there," Dave said. "But I didn't let them get me. They only fired me up. I was that much more determined to win."

Stockton played in the final twosome with Palmer, who is often embarrassed and apologetic over the wild department of his followers.

"I don't blame Arnold," Dave said.

At the seventh hole, with Stockton preparing to hit a wedge from the fairway, a fan was heard to yell loudly:

"Bury it in the sand, Davey." "Shank it," another screamed.

Stockton sank the short pitch shot for an eagle duce.

At the tough 13th, Stockton's jinx hole throughout the tournament, Dave dumped his second into the lake and heard one of the Army scream: "Yahoo! Go get him now, Arnie!"

Stockton almost holed out with a magnificent chip which he said saved the tournament for him. The ball stopped less than a foot from the hole.

Stockton then sank long putts on the 16th and 17th and played conservatively short on the 18th to preserve his edge.

He said tears welled up in his eyes when he saw his wife, Kathy, standing near the 18th green and he didn't think he would be able to putt out. But he did, after his caddies handed him a towel to wipe his face.

The new PGA champion is a strapping, dark-haired six-footer who describes himself as a "popcorn hitter" because of his short drives. He has developed into one of the best putters on the tour.

"Take Davey's putter away from him and he'd go around with mustard on his shirt," a fellow pro said jestingly.

Stockton grew up in San Bernardino, Calif., where his father was a teaching professional, but he insists his dad was not a dotting parent who pushed him into golf.

"It was just the opposite," Stockton explained. "Our family lived on the golf course. We used the golf course water to sprinkle our lawn and mowers to mow our grass."

"My father owned a sporting goods store and I was brought up around fishing rods, guns and sporting equipment. Stockton attended the University of Southern California, where the elder Stockton was an All-American before him. He won 14 tournaments his father had won in Southern California.

At USC, he majored in law and business administration.

Stockton went on the tour in 1964. He didn't make caddie fees the first two years. He scored his first victory in 1967, the Colonial Invitation, and in 1968 moved into the $10,000 class.

9-6 Win as Minnesota Beans Boston

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The go-go power had gone gone in the Minnesota Twins' hitting machine. . . and Manager Bill Rigney was seeing double.

"Hitting's been the big problem. . . and for that matter, so has our pitching," said a distracted Rigney, his team stuck in a nine-game losing slide before Sunday's game at Boston.

But all bad things come to an end sooner or later—and Minnesota's Twin-barreled offense suddenly was switched in, turned on. . . and out of sight.

The Twins broke out in typical, fence-busting fashion with four homers that beamed Boston 9-6 in a free-swinger at Fenway Park. The victory boosted Minnesota's West Division American League lead to 4½ games over Oakland, which lost 2-1 to Baltimore.

The Twins had a 10-game lead over second-place California on Aug. 8, before the start of the Great Skid. Oakland got hot and won six of eight, took over second and had cut Minnesota's bulge to 3½ games.

Milwaukee spilled Cleveland 4-3; Detroit turned back California 7-1; Washington nipped Chicago 2-1 and New York downed Kansas City 5-1 in the other AL games Sunday.

In the National League, Montreal beat Houston 5-3; New York tripped Atlanta 2-1; Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 4-2; Chicago clipped Los Angeles 5-2; San Diego whipped Pittsburgh 8-6 and San Francisco stopped St. Louis 5-2.

Rigney, interviewed before Sunday's game, confessed the Twins had been playing raggedly.

"When you say, slump, you touch a lot of bases," said Rigney. "And we touched them all. Our play has been ragged all over."

Cesar Tovar's three-run homer in the eighth capped the long ball party and turned out to be the decisive blow. Brant Alyea, George Mitterwald and Harmon Killebrew (37) hit earlier homers for the Twins.

Reggie Smith, Tony Conigliaro and Gerry Moses homered for the Red Sox in the swinging affair that also produced a total

Personality Likely to Be a Champion

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Personality and Twice Worthy are expected to meet in the $100,000 Travers Stakes at Saratoga Saturday in what promises to be one of the most exciting renewals of the historic race.

The outcome of the 1¼-mile test, which many call The Midsummer Derby, may well determine the 3-year-old champion of 1970 in the year-end polls.

Personality, who carried the silks of Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs to victory in the Wood Memorial, the Preakness, the Jersey Derby and last Friday, the Jim Dandy has been pointed for this 101st running the Travers. He is slated to carry 123 pounds including jockey Laffit Pincay Jr.

Twice Worthy, owned by the Saddle Rock Farm, is a Johnny-come-lately. He raced only once as a 2-year-old because of a wrenched knee, but is unbeaten this year in four starts.

Slated to carry 120 pounds, with Johnny Ruane in the saddle, Twice Worthy has set or equalled track records in the last three starts.

He set an Aqueduct grass course mark of 1:42:15 for 11-16 miles, equalled the Delaware Park mark for 11-16 miles in winning the Rosemont and in his last outing, won the $100,000 Monmouth Park Invitational Handicap by four lengths in the record time of 1:48:25 for 1¼ miles.

In the Monmouth he overwhelmed a field that included many prominent 3-year-olds including Dust Commander, winner of the Kentucky Derby, Well Mannered, Corn Off The Cob and Roman Scout.

Elford, noted for his ability in endurance racing, was making only his second start in Hall's Camaro. But he shoved the stubby nose of the powerful little machine in front a third of the way through the race and held on for an nine-second advantage over Mark Donohue in of seven doubles.

Bert Blyleven, who started the nine-game streak with a losing effort, won the game in relief for Minnesota.

Vikings Have Problem: Who's at QB

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings confront the 1970 National Football League season with what is becoming an annual, nagging problem—who's at quarterback?

Coach Bud Grant has been faced with a question about his No. 1 man since he joined the Vikings in 1967, when Fran Tarkenton was traded to the New York Giants for a batch of first round draft choices who played major roles in Minnesota's 1969 NFL championship.

This year, burly Joe Kapp left the void when he asked for a $1.25 million five-year contract and boycotted training camp while the Vikings refused to meet the demands.

So, injury-prone Gary Cuozzo steps into the No. 1 job for now. Cuozzo started the first game last year while Kapp recovered from a knee injury and the Vikings lost. Kapp returned and rallied the Vikings to a 12-2 record and playoff victories over Cleveland and Los Angeles.

Behind Cuozzo are untested Bob Lee, last year's punter, and Bill Cappelman, unproven Florida State rookie.

Whoever the quarterback is opening day, when Minnesota seeks revenge from the Super Bowl loss to Kansas City, he will have the mighty purple machine behind him.

After the Vikings won the Central Division title in 1968 with an 8-6 record and lost to Baltimore in the playoffs, Grant vowed great improvement. The Vikings responded with virtually the same lineups and became an NFL giant.

Again, the Vikings will go with almost the same cast.

Where will they improve?

"What areas?" Grant said.

"All of them. Every last one."

Greatest improvement last year resulted in an offensive explosion—379 points. Kapp threw 19 touchdown passes, seven in one game; Gene Washington caught 39 passes for nine touchdowns, and the powerful running fleet of Dave Osborn, Oscar Reed, Bill Brown and Clint Jones combined for 1,667 yards.

Kicker Fred Cox set an NFL record with 121 points on 26 field goals and 43 conversions.

Ed White, the only rookie to make the team, and Ron Yary, gave the offensive line, anchored by All-Pro center Mick Tingelhoff, depth and muscle.

The defense more often than not was the best offense, setting an NFL record by allowing only 133 points. Improvement by linebackers Lonnie Warwick, Wally Hilgenberg and Roy Winston helped contain the run and strengthen pass defense.

Eller may be slowed in the early going because of a hernia. Marshall has recovered from a tonsillectomy that left him in critical condition last winter when blood reached his lungs.

The Vikings avoided costly injuries and mistakes as they rolled into the Super Bowl. Then their world collapsed. The Chiefs clobbered them 23-7.

"Kansas City played extremely well..." Grant has said. "But we made as many costly mistakes in that one game as we had made in a season."

Now, the Vikings get a chance for revenge Sept. 20 in the first game of a very rugged schedule that also includes Los Angeles, Dallas, the New York Jets and Central Division rivals Green Bay, Chicago and Detroit twice each.

Grant said, "I would be disappointed if the players don't realize what it took to get to the Super Bowl. You have to crank up and do it again. All we are thinking about right now is the Central Division. That's where it starts. They are the teams we have to beat."

And they need a quarterback to do it.

US Womens Amateur to Begin

DARIEN, Conn. (AP) — The 70th annual U.S. Women's Amateur Championship returns Monday to the Wee Burn Country Club with one of its strongest and largest fields in a dozen years.

Five former champions, the victorious U.S. Curtis Cup team, all but one member of the British Curtis Cup team and some outstanding junior golfers are among the 141 players teeing off for two days of 18-hole stroke play on the 6,240-yard, par 74 course.

With the field reduced to the low 32 scorers in the medal play, match play will begin Wednesday with two rounds. The quarter-finals will be played Thursday, the semifinals Friday and the 36-hole final Saturday.

Fort Smith 70 Am. Legion Champion

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — Fort Smith Kerwin is the 1970 American Legion Baseball champion after beating Blytheville, 7-0 here Sunday.

In the first game of the doubleheader, Blytheville defeated Fort Smith, 5-3.

The winning pitcher, Steve Haaser, pitched 21 innings during the tournament without allowing a run. He was named the outstanding pitcher of the tournament.

Randy Smith of Blytheville was named the most valuable player.

Newport won the sportsmanship award.

Named to the all-state outfield team was Larry McDaniels of Fort Smith, Kerney Black of Newport, Jim Callear of Blytheville, Steve Smith of Blytheville, Steve Burks of Lonoke and Banks Conditt of Helena.

Named to the all-state infield team were Dee Human of Blytheville, Connley Soden of Newport, Tommy Fowler of Blytheville, Gerald Adams of Blytheville, Steve Haaser of Fort Smith and William Pogue of Fort Smith.

All-state pitchers were Charles Blackburn of Newport, Randy Smith of Blytheville, Johnny Breedlove of Blytheville and Joe Bob McCullar of Lonoke.

Steve Abart of Newport and Bill Breedlove of Fort Smith were named the all-star catchers.

Crawford Wins $400 in PGA

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Richard Crawford of Bella Vista, Ark., won $400 with a 309 total in the PGA National Championship Sunday.

Dave Stockton won the $40,000 top prize with a 279 total.

Birds possess the same senses as humans, but they are developed to a different degree.

Laver Wins Canadian Open Tennis

TORONTO (AP) — Roger Taylor, who fashioned comebacks in the quarter and semi-finals, failed to pull off a third in a row Sunday as Rod Laver broke his serve twice in the final set to win the men's singles title at the Canadian Open Tennis Championships 6-0, 4-6, 6-3.

It was the third time Taylor had dropped the opening set of his match. It happened Friday against Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles and Saturday against Andres Gimeno of Spain.

In all three matches, Taylor had troubles with his serve and controlling his forehand, and Sunday attributed his slow starts to "poor concentration."

In women's singles play, Margaret Court of Australia and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco, who teamed to win the doubles championship, advanced to tonight's final.

Mrs. Court, the current Wimbledon champion, beat Esem Emanuel of South Africa 6-0, 6-3 as Miss Emanuel was forced into frequent errors and double-faulted twice.

Miss Casals took a set to adjust to the defensive tactics of Linda Tuero of New Orleans to win 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

In the doubles, Mrs. Court and Miss Casals didn't allow Helen Gourlay of Australia and Pat Walkden of South Africa a game until the 11th of the second set as they breezed through the final 6-0, 6-1.

In men's doubles, Bill Bowrey of Australia and Marty Reissen of Evanston, Ill., upset the top-seeded pairing of Laver and Roy Emerson Australia, 6-3, 5-7, 8-6.

They'll be joined in tonight's final, the last event of the $23,000 tourney, by Cliff Drysdale of South Africa and Fred Stolle of Australia who beat Taylor and Gimeno 9-7, 6-1.

Betsy Rawls Captures LPGA Title

CINCINNATI (AP) — Betsy Rawls feels that a near birdie putt on the 17th hole was the deciding factor in her victory Sunday in the Ladies Professional Golf Association Buckeye Invitation.

"I two-putted on 17 from about 40 feet out," she said. "I hit a good first putt to within two feet of the hole, then I made the next putt for a par. That was really what won it."

Miss Rawls, Spartanburg, S.C., shot an even-par 72 over the 6,110-yard Royal Oak Racquet Country Club course, giving her a 54-hole total of 210, one stroke ahead of Pam Barnett of Charlotte, N.C., who carded a four-under par 68 Sunday.

Although she hit only nine greens, Miss Rawls said that she felt her round Sunday was better than her first two.

"Artistically it was a better round," she said. "I like to scramble and I did it Sunday. Those four-foot putts take a lot out of you though."

Behind Miss Barnett, at 212, was Marge Masters, Largo, Fla., who had a 72 Sunday. She fired a 67 Saturday for the low round of the $20,000 tournament.

Tied at 213 were Kathy Whitworth, Ocean Shores, Wash., and Mary Mills of Laurel, Miss.

Miss Whitworth shot a 71 Sunday and Miss Mills a 73.

The victory, Miss Rawls' second this year, gave her a career total of 52. She had won the Dallas Civitan Open earlier this year.

Amarillo 8-7 Over Arkansas

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — The Amarillo Giants used three pitchers in the final two innings to stave off a desperate comeback bid by the Arkansas Travelers and downed the Eastern Division leaders 8-7 in a Texas League game Sunday.

Arkansas, trailing 8-4 after seven innings, quickly scored three runs against Amarillo starter Hal Jeffcoat in the eighth as Danny Napoleon and Skip Jutze sandwiched singles around Enrique Rivera's one-out double and Mike McDonald's two-run triple.

With Jutze moving on the pitch, reliever David Hernandez struck out Dick Seminoff while catcher Dave Rader tossed out Jutze at second to retire the side.

Charlie Stewart walked to open the Arkansas ninth and advanced to second on Mickey Keller's sacrifice bunt. Leo Mazzone relieved and retired Jose Cruz and Napoleon to wrap up Amarillo's only victory in the four-game series.

Rader clouted two doubles and a single while Chris Spier added three singles to spearhead Amarillo's 15-hit attack. Arkansas collected 12 hits with Rivera hitting an inside-the-park homer in the sixth.

In other action, Dallas-Fort Worth beat San Antonio 5-3 and Memphis defeated Albuquerque 8-4.

Miss Rawls had a two-stroke lead going into the final round after identical rounds of 69 Friday and Saturday.

Dowell to Represent US in Sr. Cup

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP) — W. A. Dowell Jr. of Walnut Ridge is phasing himself out of the national seniors golf picture.

Dowell, considered one of the best senior players in the world for four years (1966-69), will make his first appearance on the senior "tour" since April this weekend at Colorado Springs, Colo. He and three others will represent the U.S. in the Seniors World Cup.

"You've got to do most of your winning between 55 and 60," Dowell said. "And, I turned 60 last October. As far as winning those big ones are concerned, there is always a group of new younger players coming on that are so much better than the ones playing now."

Dowell earned the right to represent the U.S. in the World Cup competition by reaching the semifinals of the World Seniors in 1969. He also reached the semifinals in 1967 and the finals in 1966 and 1968. He also won the American Seniors in 1966 and 1968.

"I had four straight years of the senior tour," he said. "I'm just going to cut down from now on. I won't play in many big ones. I thoroughly enjoyed those four years and wouldn't take anything for those experiences."

Dowell, who has won more than 50 tournaments during his 40-year career, added the Oil Belt Seniors title at El Dorado earlier this year and recently won the King Cotton Four-Ball at Blytheville.

"I've just enjoyed playing these little fun tournaments in Arkansas," he said. "These four-balls and things like that are more fun than traveling a long way, working hard and beating your brains out."

He describes his game at the moment as "so-so."

"I have some days that are good and some days that are bad," he said. "I have more hot rounds than I used to, but I have more bad rounds. I might shoot 64-84 instead of a group of 75s."

Dowell did not attract national attention until he joined the senior ranks.

"I never thought I was good enough, really and truly," Dowell said. "When I went on the senior tour, I found out I could play with them. I guess if you're exposed to the best players in the country, some of that will rub off you."

Dowell refuses to get drawn into a comparison of players from the Bobby Jones era against today's fairway giants. "It's almost like comparing a 1970 car to a 1930 car," he said. "Too many things have changed."

Dowell, however, has made the transition from one era to the other and is still winning golf tournaments.

Endorsement for Compton by Mayors

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Seven Arkansas mayors have written a letter to the Arkansas Municipal League endorsing the gubernatorial candidacy of Robert C. Compton of El Dorado, a Democrat.

The letter says, "There is only one candidate for the office of governor who, from the beginning of his campaign, has recognized the critical situation that existed in the cities. This man is Bob Compton."

The letter is signed by Robert L. Cope, mayor of Forrest City; Cecil Dale, mayor of Danville; Ed Isom, mayor of Ola; L. I. Pesses, mayor of El Dorado; Ted Hogan, mayor of Casa; Jeff D. Welch Jr., acting mayor of Havana and Dow Caldwell, acting mayor of Belleville.

Body of Grossett Man Recovered

BASTROP, La. (AP) — The body of Ernest Humphrey, 36, of Crossett, Ark., was recovered Saturday from Bussey Break Lake north of here. Officers said Humphrey apparently drowned Friday after renting a boat.

Antitrust Division Promised

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ray Thornton said Saturday that if elected attorney general he would, in keeping with his promise to work for consumer protection, establish an anti-trust division within the attorney general's office.

Thornton is a Democratic candidate for attorney general. "My interest in anti-trust litigation began when I filed the largest anti-trust lawsuit ever filed in the state against our largest utility company on behalf of a small inventor," Thornton said.

There is an anti-trust division under Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell.

Sterling Cockrill's record as a legislator proves that the best interests of the people of Arkansas come first. Before self interest. Or before a political party.

His term as Speaker of the House proved he could treat issues and people fairly. In fact, his colleagues commended him for his fairness.

His candidacy as a Republican for Lieutenant Governor proves that serving the people of Arkansas is more important than serving self interest political groups.

Since 1957, when he was first elected to the House of Representatives, Sterling Cockrill has proven himself. And what he stands for. He needs your vote.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—R. J.

Hampton, 34, of North Little Rock brought to this year's Arkansas elections something not seen in a gubernatorial candidate for 50 years—a black skin.

A minister of the African-

Methodist-Episcopal faith, Hampton was a Democrat until 1968 when he attacked the party's gubernatorial nominee, Marion H. Crank, and switched to the Republican side.

Hampton entered the GOP primary for governor this year, the first Negro to seek the state's highest office since 1920. He resigned as president of Shorter College when he filed for governor.

Hampton's campaign has been much like any other candidate's. He has not declared unequivocally against any tax increase, he has said schools are in critical need of additional revenue, he has expressed support for the proposed new constitution.

He brought a small controversy to his candidacy by acknowledging that he expected to receive a small campaign contribution from Jess Odom, chief financial backer of former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, a Democrat.

Other than that, Hampton has received only the attention he brought to himself. Neither Republican nor Democratic gubernatorial nomination-seekers have paid much heed to him.

Hampton says he expects to receive substantial support among black voters, but also has hopes of winning white support.

He has criticized Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, who seeks a third term on the GOP ticket, as a "Messianic tragedy" in the field of civil rights.

"Rockefeller has promised much but delivered little," Hampton said.

The black candidate asserted that Rockefeller would no longer receive heavy black voter support because of "promises unkept and lies found out."

Republicans say, though, that they expect that many blacks still will cast their ballots for Rockefeller because of gains his administration has made in behalf of Negroes and because of Rockefeller's personal and financial support of many black causes.

Hampton is married, the father of three children. He owns a printing firm, a public relations firm and a small weekly newspaper, through which he often boosts his own candidacy.

Police Lured Into Trap, One Killed

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Eight Omaha policemen apparently were lured into a dynamite trap in a vacant house on the city's Near North Side today and one was killed and seven hurt.

Lt. John Bozak said a booby-trapped suitcase on the living room floor of the two and one-half story house in a predominantly Negro section exploded, blowing the house apart.

The slain officer was Larry Menard, who would have been 30 on Thursday. Deputy Police Chief Glen Gates said. Menard had been on the police force since February 1963.

One policeman, John Tess, was hospitalized with leg wounds and was in fair condition. Six other policemen were treated at hospitals and released.

Gates said eight policemen were dispatched to the area after a report a woman was screaming. He said there had been a number of "crank" calls from the area in recent days.

Apparently, Gates said, "a dynamite trap" was planned. Some of the officers entered the vacant house, while others remained outside.

Gates said it was not known for sure that Menard actually touched the booby-trapped suitcase, as police reported earlier. He was the nearest officer to it, however, and was killed instantly.

Some policemen were blown through a doorway and others knocked down. The blast was heard several blocks away.

Police and firemen sealed off the area and placed a tarpaulin over the wreckage to protect it against an early morning rain.

Bozak said that after the first report came, the eight officers were sent out and began a search of the vacant house.

Little Relief Is Expected From Heat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Little relief is expected through Tuesday from the hot and humid weather that Arkansas has experienced for the last few days.

Little or no rainfall was expected before Tuesday. Arkansas' weather continued to be influenced by a high pressure ridge extending from the east. Little movement was expected for this system.

Highs Sunday ranged from 98 at Fort Smith to 88 at Harrison. No rainfall was recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

O&G Commissioner in Denial of Charge He Represented Arkla

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Heart-sill Ragon of Fort Smith, a member of the state Oil and Gas Commission, Sunday denied that he had represented Arkansas Louisiana Gas before the state Supreme Court while he was on the commission.

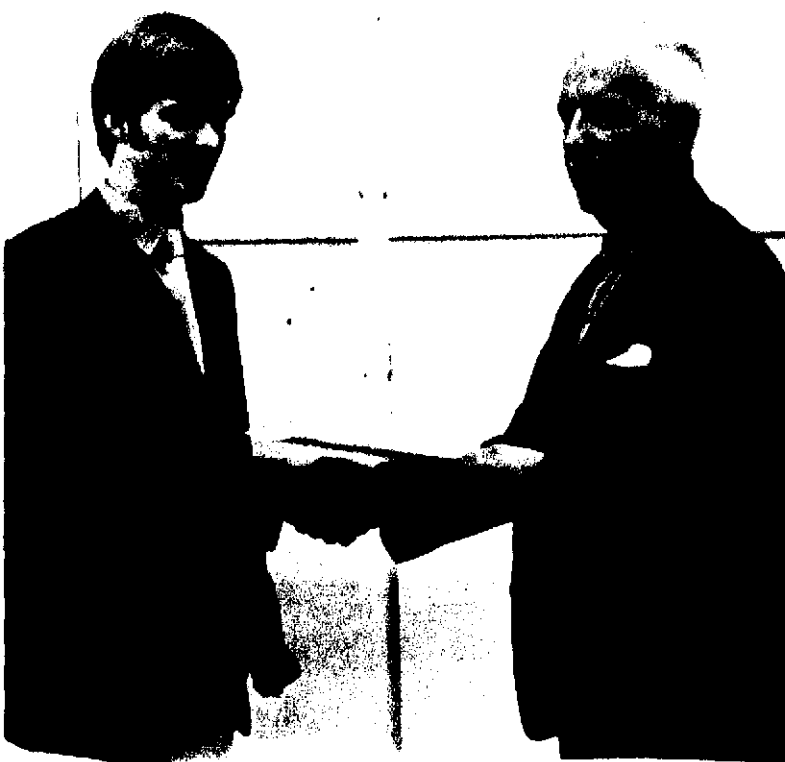

State Sen. Richard Earl Griffin, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for attorney general, said Saturday that Ragon was a "paid mouth-piece" for Arkla.

Ragon said he was appointed to the commission in 1967 and the last time he represented Arkla before the high court was in 1966.

"Since that date (April 3, 1967) neither myself nor any member of my firm has accepted new employment from the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., the Stephens Production Co. or any of their subsidiaries in any court litigation or hearing before the commission," Ragon said.

Ray Thornton Jr., a nephew of W. R. "Witt" Stephens, president and board chairman of Arkla, is opposing Griffin for the nomination. Thornton was

1st Scholarship for Hope Star Carrier

Douglas Edwin Rogers, 18, left, is awarded by Alex. H. Washburn, president and editor of The Star, the first of a Circulation Carrier's College Scholarship, being $500 a year all four college years. The award ceremony took place Friday afternoon in The Star office.

The only limitation on the scholarship is that the total expense to The Star shall not be more than $2,000 in a single year. However, there is no guarantee that the scholarship will be offered to all boys applying for it.

The basic idea of the Circulation Scholarship is to make available to the newspaper supervisory and other part-time help from the ranks of the independent carriers; that is to say, the newspaper boys are encouraged by the scholarship, following high school graduation, to work for the newspaper through the final Summer before going to college.

The scholarship program was scheduled to start a year ago with a different boy, but he forfeited his scholarship during the summer of 1969 by taking another job.

Senate Decision Due on Making Pentagon Buy More Carefully

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid charges defense procurement is wasteful and inefficient, the Senate votes today on whether to hold the Pentagon to its "fly before you buy" policy.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., joined others in vowing to fight the measure "to the last fiber of my being."

And Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird called it "premature."

The amendment to the $19.2 billion military procurement bill was offered by Sen. William Proxmire, the Senate's most persistent critic of what he views as waste in military spending.

The Wisconsin Democrat hopes to compel the Pentagon to implement the purchasing guidelines proposed recently by the Fitzhugh Commission. At the very least, he wants an explanation when the policy is not followed.

"Fly-before-you-buy is a very sound notion that before we move into production of a weapons system it should be thoroughly tested so that defects have been corrected, so that we may know how much the production cost is likely to be and so that ... the performance would be adequate," Proxmire told the Senate.

Problems arise because the defense department ignores the policy whenever it sees fit, he added.

He said his amendment would require the Pentagon to file a report with the appropriate congressional committees whenever they depart from the "fly-before-you-buy" principal.

Goldwater has said he fears the amendment could be used as legal rope to bind the Pentagon in cases of urgency where a weapons system is vitally needed to protect national security.

Proxmire said Goldwater has nothing to fear.

"The amendment does not prohibit the authorization or funding of the production of a weapons system if the service has failed to follow the 'fly-before-you-buy' conditions," Proxmire said.

The Pentagon, he added, has in fact had the policy under the name "Milestone" for at least a year but has ignored it time after time on the production of such weapons systems as the Safeguard antiballistic missile defense system.

He said the new name may have snappier public relations appeal but added: "The real test is: Do they mean it? Do they really mean business?"

Thornton also said that Griffin's proposal to repeal three laws was not the purpose of the attorney general's office.

The power to repeal an act is considered "in a democracy to belong to the people rather than to an individual," Thornton said.

He said that power "is granted not to one man, but to the 135 members of the legislature, subject to veto by the governor."

Thornton said that if Griffin wanted to repeal laws he should remain within the legislature.

Russia Has Launched Venus Shot

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched an unmanned space probe to explore the planet Venus.

Tass said the spaceship, which it called the "automatic interplanetary station Venus 7," would "continue the exploration of the planet Venus, which was carried out earlier by Soviet automatic stations."

It said the spaceship was launched at 8:38 a.m. Moscow time — 1:38 a.m. EDT — and together with the final stage of the rocket carrier was put into an interim orbit of the earth.

At 9:59 Moscow time, the report continued, the engine of the final stage was switched on for just over four minutes to boost the rocket out of orbit and on its way.

Tass said at noon Moscow time — 5 a.m. EDT — Venus 7 was more than 25,000 miles from earth.

"Venus 7 was put into a trajectory close to the preset one," the Soviet news agency said. "All the systems and scientific equipment on board the station are functioning normally. The flight is controlled by the long-distance space communication center."

Induction Center Is Dynamited

By JOHN LUNDQUIST
Associated Press Writer

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A thunderous explosion early today ripped the old Federal Office Building, headquarters for military induction in the Minneapolis area.

A night watchman inside the building was knocked unconscious but was released from a hospital later when it was determined he had no internal injuries.

U.S. Marshal Harry Berglund made a preliminary estimate of $500,000 in damages to the sturdy, stone-faced structure. He said up to 20 sticks of dynamite may have been used in the 3 a.m. blast.

Scores of windows were shattered in the Post Office building a block away as well as large first-floor windows in a swank apartment building, as the concussion swept across a parking lot. Windows also were broken in an old four-story warehouse and the Milwaukee Road freight house. Chunks of concrete weighing up to 300 pounds were hurled into the lot.

The FBI and U.S. marshal's office searched the rubble for clues. A spokesman for the FBI said only that the case was under investigation.

Authorities reportedly had no one in custody.

The injured watchman, Joseph Christy, 63, complained of chest and abdominal pains but physicians at Hennepin County General Hospital found no injuries and he was released.

Nixon Plan to Shrink Foreign Aid Programs Has Asians Worried

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's year-old policy aimed at shrinking the nation's military posture and foreign aid programs has created anxiety, bewilderment and skepticism throughout Asia, diplomatic sources say.

Japan, meanwhile, is said to have emerged as a reluctant beneficiary of the so-called Nixon Doctrine, which was spelled out by the President on Guam in August of last year.

Charges Egypt Moving Up More Missiles

JERUSALEM (AP) — Foreign Minister Abba Eban strongly criticized U.S. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird today and said the Israeli government has definite proof that Egypt violated the new cease-fire long after it went into effect at midnight Aug. 7.

Laird said in a television interview Sunday that Egypt may have positioned Soviet missiles nearer the Suez canal after the cease-fire, but that these charges were difficult to prove or disprove.

Laird added that he did not think it served any purpose to discuss what occurred during the 12 hours before and after the cease-fire.

"We should expect at least a frank acknowledgement of violations," Eban told a news conference.

He said Israel must insist on the "strictest precision in dealing with such complaints" and therefore it was not "immaterial whether such violations were 12 hours before or after the cease-fire."

Jerusalem has complained twice to the United Nations—the second time on Aug. 13—that the Egyptians deployed SAM2 and SAM3 missiles in the 30-mile standoff zone along the canal.

Eban charged today that the Egyptians committed other violations after the Aug. 13 complaint "and we have recorded all the details."

It was not only a question of missile movements some hours after the cease-fire, he said, "but much longer after that."

"There was no excuse for any ambiguity in this matter," he declared.

Boy Drowns in Arkansas River

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Louis C. Peoples, 11, son of Mrs. Elma Peoples of Little Rock, drowned Saturday afternoon in the Arkansas River near the Little Rock Marina.

Peoples was playing with a group of children in the river when he fell in. He was alone when he was rescued by a group of children.

Validity of Notes Doubted by Police

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Uruguayan police noted several major differences Sunday night between a new ransom note delivered to a Brazilian newspaper and earlier confirmed notes from antigovernment rebels holding an American agronomist and a Brazilian diplomat as hostages.

The police said they doubted the message's validity or that its threat to kill Brazilian consul Aloysio Mares Dias Gomide came from the Tupamaros guerrillas.

Brazilian police brought the communique to Montevideo Sunday afternoon. Delivered to a paper in Porto Alegre, Brazil, it said Dias Gomide's execution date would be set unless the Uruguayan government released 183 prisoners by 11 a.m. Tuesday.

The note did not mention Claude L. Fly, 65, of Fort Collins, Colo., an adviser to the Agriculture Ministry who was kidnapped Aug. 7. Dias Gomide, 41, and Daniel A. Mitronne, 50, of Richmond, Ind., were abducted July 31. Mitronne was murdered Aug. 10 after the government refused to comply with a guerrilla ultimatum demanding that all political prisoners be released. President Jorge Pacheco Areco said the prisoners were criminals, and he has refused to negotiate with the Tupamaros.

Police sources said the message from Brazil was discounted because it was handwritten instead of typed or mimeographed, was numbered 14 when the last confirmed message was numbered 13.

U.S. Tosses All Bombers Into Battle

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The United States today committed its entire Pacific force of B52 bombers against the new Communist offensive in the northernmost provinces of South Vietnam.

Nearly 100 of the big bombers from Guam, Okinawa and Thailand dropped some 3,000 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese supply and staging areas on both sides of the Laotian border during the past 48 hours.

The raids were the heaviest in two years in the sector. Informal sources said clouds prevented any accurate assessment of the bomb damage, but several secondary explosions indicated hits on ammunition stores.

The U.S. Command ordered the B52s out in full force after attacks Sunday on seven allied bases guarding approaches to the populous coastal lowlands of Quang Tri and Thua Thien provinces.

The U.S. Command also announced that three American helicopters were shot down on the Laotian side of the border Saturday, two of them as they tried to rescue the crew of the first chopper downed. Headquarters said one American was killed, two were missing and five were wounded in the crash.

Official sources said they believe the enemy pressure against the allied bases along the Laotian border and the Demilitarized Zone is part of the preparation for a big push against the Saigon government's pacification program in the lowlands.

North Vietnamese gunners late Sunday slammed nearly 200 rounds of rockets, mortars and recoilless rifle shells into five allied bases along the DMZ. It was the heaviest attack in that region in more than a year.

At the same time the North Vietnamese for the eighth day kept up attacks on two allied fire bases—O'Reilly and Barnett—some 25 miles south of the DMZ along the Laotian border. Three ground fights were reported around the bases.

Casualties and damage were reported light over-all, but one South Vietnamese artillery base, Fuller, four miles south of the DMZ, was hard hit. Seventy rounds from 120mm mortars slammed into it, blowing up an ammunition dump. A score or more South Vietnamese troops were killed, and as many more were wounded.

The U.S. Command said several Americans were killed in the other shelling attacks, but none was wounded.

Southern S. Says Ruling Was Wrong

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — The president of Southern State College says the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis was wrong when it overturned a federal District Court's ruling concerning constitutional rights of officers and faculty advisers of Students United for Rights and Equality (SURE) at Southern State.

Imon E. Bruce made the statement Saturday, but said the decision would not be appealed.

The St. Louis court ruled that the District Court erred in its decision that constitutional rights were not violated by SBC restrictions on the activities of the officers and faculty advisers of SURE.

"The matter appears to be a closed issue insofar as Southern State College is concerned," Bruce said. "Although we think the U.S. Court of Appeals is in error in its decision, we see no justification in further appeal of the case since what the court has asked of the administration has already been done for more than one year."

Boy Scout Troop 91 will have a swim party from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday (tonight), says Southmaster Glen Overturn.

Nixon Pleased With Weapons Slowdown Pact

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Claiming several bright, new prospects for a stable world peace, the Nixon administration has expressed renewed enthusiasm for a slowdown in the weapons race with the Soviet Union.

The key issue of the joint Strategic Arms Limitations Talks is a proposal to mutually abolish or curtail deployment of antiballistic missiles, they said.
Administration spokesmen said the Safeguard ABM system had been a major bargaining tool at the Vienna talks, which just ended a four-month round last week. The negotiations resumed in Helsinki this November.
They said the Soviet Union had expressed most interest in stopping development of the ABM. The United States has offered to do so if the Soviets would limit their large SS-9 missiles and outback their ABM.

At a weekend briefing for editors and broadcasters in New Orleans during President Nixon's visit, the officials said Nixon's promise last year of negotiation rather than confrontation had panned out as a turning point in postwar policy.
The spokesmen, who declined identification and prohibited release of their comments until Sunday, also said the conventional ground war in southern South Vietnam is virtually ended.

They said security in that part of the nation was the best it's been since 1964.
While noting that guerrilla warfare continues and the Paris peace talks remain fruitless, they said the strengthened South Vietnamese Army now should be able to meet on its own the aggression in the southern region.

Says Governor Should Be a Paid Lobbyist

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Robert C. Compton of El Dorado, a Democratic gubernatorial hopeful, says the governor should be a "paid lobbyist" for the people.
Compton made the remark at a rally during which he said the people of Arkansas lack leadership.
The candidate also called for

Monday, August 17, 1970
"equity" in state government and repeal of the use tax.
"What we need is not new taxes, but to collect taxes we are not collecting," Compton said.
Howling's Beginning
When ninepins was outlawed by Connecticut and New York because the game had fallen into control of gamblers, another pin was added about 1842 to circumvent the law and became the game of bowling, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.
